Potential Presidents present platforms

The three candidates for President of the Students' Society confronted a full house of potential voters in Room 204 of the Engineering Building yesterday at 1 pm.

Joel Bell, Tim Brodhead, and Saeed Mirza each presented their platforms, and the audience, mostly engineers but with a fair number of other students as well, cheered, hissed, and asked the occasional question.

All three stressed both the internal problems of student government, and the external problems of relations with the French-speaking universities and the Provincial Government.

Bell claimed that internal problems must be settled first, since only then can the Students' Socety present the desired image to the outside world. He advocated a substantial increase in statutory grants, protected by the constitution. In addition, he wanted the establishment of an Activities Board, composed of undergraduate society executives, which would make the major decisions for allocating these funds.

Brodhead thought that the main difficulty, internally, is that the President is not in close enough touch with all facets of student activities. He maintained that the position of the undergraduate societies should be enhanced because they are closer to the students than is the SEC, and supported the creation of an advisory committee, composed of the Undergraduate Society presidents and members from the residences, to work with the President in better representing all the students.

Mirza came out in favour of a friendly, more personal approach. The constitution should encourage the participation of the average student, he said, and further, the President should be available to discuss matters with any student. "Bring your lunch boxes down to the SEC office," he told the crowd, "and eat your sandwiches while we discuss your problems." He added that this type of approach had worked very well in the ISA, of which he is president.

All three candidates voiced some discontent with the Daily. Both Bell and Brodhead mentioned the complaints of various cam-

Phantom bandits steal 2000 copies of SGWU paper

About 2,000 copies of last week's Georgian never reached the students of Sir George Williams University.

Last week, the Georgian increased its circulation to 5,000 because it contained an editorial of special interest to evening students. But at about 6:15 pm Tuesday, Don Claxton, an evening student, was caught with a bundle of about 200 Georgians by a Student Council member.

Claxton said that he was taking the papers to the Georgian office, and later stated that the Evening Students' Association (ESA) had ordered him to do this because "there was a rumour that evening students were stealing them."

The editorial which had occasioned the increased run of papers cast certain aspersions on the Blood clinic opens today

In view of the fact that the three-month mandatory interim between giving blood has long since elapsed after the Fall Bloody Binge, all undergraduates, graduates, and staff members are eligible and welcomed to take part in the annual Engineering Blood Clinic today.

The clinic will run from 10 am till 6 pm, today only in the Common Room of the New Engineering Building.

An objective of 650 pints has been set by the drive to assist the Red Cross in meeting its weekly blood quota.

"The Red Cross realizes that due to the excellent participation shown by McGill students in the past, their expectation of 650 pints could easily be met," said Co-Chairman Barry Skolnik.

"We promise to give two pints of superior engineer-type blood for every pint of blood donated by someone from any of the other faculties. We will even allow commerce students to count one pint of their blood at full value," proclaimed his Co-Chairman, Hal Wilson.

The Chairmen listed various incentives to a visit to the commonroom. Artswomen will have an opportunity to meet friendly engineers, friendly engineers will show off their queen, Joan Clarkin (from noon on), and friendly volunteers will provide coffee, cokes and doughnuts.

BURSARY APPLICANTS RECEIVE GRANTS-IN-AID

Over 74% of the students who applied for a revision of their application forms for student aid received a positive response to their appeal, the Consulting Committee on Student Aid has indicated.

This statement was the result of a meeting with Hector Joyal of the Committee held last week-end to release these decisions. A total of 1,764 students applied for revision of their bursary claims. Seventy-four per cent (1,312) of these were granted an augmentation of their bursaries.

At McGill, nearly 66% of the students who re-applied received a positive response, i.e., 163 students. In all, 250 McGill students had applied for reconsideration.

"We were reasonably satisfied with the results of the meeting, considering the chaos which was anticipated."

The Committee now plans to commence a new series of meetings at which the entire system of norms introduced at the beginning of this year is to be revised.

"We would also like to see the norms more accurately reflect the true position of students regarding summer incomes and the contributions of parents," said the representatives.

At McGill, the total augmentation was $53,450; in the whole province $561,868 more was received by students in increased bursaries as a result of the revision. By faculty, Arts received $4,320, Law $1,840, Commerce $2,320, Social Science $2,310, Education $1,470, Science $23,760, Agriculture $780, Physiotherapy $3,350, Medicine $1,860, and Engineering $9,200.

The last regular issue of the second term will be published Friday. There will be two Election Extras on Monday and Tuesday, and an Awards Issue on March 13. All announcements and previews must be handed in to our office by 3 pm today.

Professor Pierre Demers, of the Faculty of Science at l'Université de Montréal, had more to say on the subject of two solitudes in Redpath Hall last night. His was the second in the E.R. Adair series of public lectures, sponsored by the French Canada Studies Programme. Standing on Professor Demers' right is Dr. Stanley B. Frost, Dean of the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research.

Competition causes linguistic differences according to Demers

The existence of a linguistic group is the result of the dynamic operation of competition between different groups, Professor Pierre Demers said last night in the second of three lectures on "Two cultures in Canada and the Western World."

This was his conclusion after examining many examples of bilingual countries aside from Canada. These include South Africa, where conditions have led to the survival of the Afrikaans culture, India and Pakistan, where "English is the key to the treasure of universal culture", and the USA, where indigenous French and Spanish cultures have largely been lost.

Discussing the two-nation theory, Professor Demers said that the word nation is one which takes different senses in different surroundings. He mentioned "l'Union Nationale" and "Canadian National Railways" as examples of the word "nation" taking perfectly clear but different meanings.

Professor Demers said that the scientific approach to language theory leads to the conclusion that if we want to establish universal communication, we must all learn the language spoken by the most people: English.

However, he asked, "should each man on earth wish to have the means of communicating with all and every other inhabitant of the earth, and then should English be the communication medium?"

STAFF FOR THIS ISSUE

goodbye goodbye goodbye and what's good about it? well, I'll tell you, it's been a rewarding year, all-in-all, taking it by and large, all things considered, including Barry Sandy John Bob Allan Jane Ellen Sharon Clara Magil, and I want you to know, I appreciate all of you supporters, admirers, well-wishers, fans, devotees (especially my anonymous friend up at the law school) out there in Daily-land. But these things all have to end sometime, and this is where I get off... back to anonymity for me and my fellow four, Doug, Bonnie, Charlie, Wenda, ANNE: au revoir pierre, so long world, and thanks for the ride.

The long, long summer

We pointed, in yesterday's editorial, to the definite benefits to be derived from an extended university year. In our opinion, a major obstacle to such a program is the need for a summer vacation of five months, during which students can earn enough money to return the following year, and professors can do the research for which they have no time when burdened by teaching responsibilities.

As to the professors' point of view, we must plead ignorance. We do not know exactly how many of the faculty would be seriously affected if their five months vacation were reduced to three, or to what extent it might curtail their research. Nevertheless, it is true that such a vacation is five or six times the length of that enjoyed by the average business executive.

For the student, on the other hand, the necessity and desirability of summer jobs is seriously open to question. In the first place, only in a small minority of cases do such jobs provide the student with training that is helpful either to his education or to his career after graduation. In recent years, most jobs have been of the routine office variety, sales positions, or jobs involving wholly physical skills. While these don't harm the student, there are certainly more educational ways for him to spend the summer months.

The second raison d'être for summer jobs is the traditional poverty of the university student, and the vital part which summer earnings play in financing his education. Indeed, money is a central issue, an issue on which the idea of a longer school year could stand or fall.

Not only do students need more aid if they are to lose some of their earnings, but obviously the university will have to meet increased expenses, in terms of salaries and building maintenance, if McGill is to remain open an extra two months a year.

We thus return to the pressing need for more aid to education, primarily from the Provincial Government. At present, we are having enough trouble merely maintaining fees at a reasonable level, and are only gradually working our way toward the six months' free education a year which the Government has promised.

Thus, it would seem that a longer year, and the relief of the student from the burden of often useless summer employment, are going to be a long time coming. Nevertheless, this is a goal which both we, the students, and the administration should bear in mind and put into effect, if and when the money which we have been promised becomes a reality.

From the other side of the mountain:

And long live the revolution...

Many things have been said about the revolution in Quebec; many senseless things, few sensible things.

The acts of terrorism aroused the ire of the English. It was said for example that the explosions in Westmount — you will remember, those which nearly killed Leja — were pure madness, while in fact, from the point of view of terrorism, this was the first purely terrorist act.

Meanwhile it must be said, right now, that the terrorism is not necessarily the same as the revolution and that the revolution can be carried through without bloodshed, no matter how dif-

Quebec — are aware of the ultimate aims of the Québécois revolution.

What is needed first is a campaign of education, as a coup d'état would be impossible or ficult it may be in these conditions.

Will the recent theft of arms lead us to a new wave of terrorism? We cannot say this definitely. It seems rather that a war of nerves will be undertaken. Who will back down first? Without doubt it will be the stronger group, who are not revolutionaries.

It is useless therefore to think of a revolution by force of arms; too many people accept the status quo. Too few people — even in doomed to failure in the present situation. Therefore, a campaign of education which would mobilize our best people effectively in order to show to those people outside of Montreal that the revolution is something more than a headache caused by twenty adolescents.

Mr. René Lévesque, through his actions, is much more of a revolutionary than most of us. He really wants things to change and through his action things will change. He was the promoter of the nationalization of hydro-electric resources; he was, with Gerin-Lajoie, the principal defender of the original version of Bill 60.

The revolution demands a rapid and total reformation of the social, political and economic structures of Quebec; we are, in respect of this, only at the beginning. We must go much further. We are living in the pre-revolutionary period. We are preparing ourselves. We must also nationalize the mines, lands and forests, food markets, etc. It will be then that we will be able to enter into the truly revolutionary phase. It will be then that, in complete possession of our economy, we will be able to take full possession of our rightful political powers and we will dictate to ourselves, without pressure from foreign powers, our conduct in the direction of affairs of state.

We have nothing to blame on the English for the present situation; they have only acted as conquerors. We have had to suffer from their presence, but certainly less than the South Americans under Cortez or Pizarro. Meanwhile, we have battles to undertake and we will give the best of our energies to make of Quebec a French state.

LETTERS

Protest statement on Federal loans

Dear Sir:

A petition is presently in the process of being circulated for signature calling upon the provincial government to implement free education at the university level. This is notwithstanding Mr. Gerin-Lajoie's persistent lament over the astronomical costs of modern education and the fact that thousands of high school teachers are on strike for higher pay which the resources of local school boards are hard-pressed to accommodate. Obviously, the only end which the petition can hope to achieve is to declare our support for the principle of free university education.

It is thus surprising to find that Mr. Gordon, the President of our Students' Society, as quoted in today's Daily, has termed the proposed federal scheme for loans to university students "a clear violation of provincial jurisdiction". Surely, we, as university students upholding a basic right, do not have to join the chorus of provincial autonomists in protesting a mythical invasion of provincial jurisdiction. What we are concerned with is financial aid to capable students to attend, and continue to attend, university.

Certainly, as responsible individuals, we must consider the policy implications of any principle we support. However, from the point of view of constitutional law, it is certainly not clear that the federal scheme is unconstitutional, i.e. in invasion of provincial legislative jurisdiction. No authoritative pronouncement by our Courts prohibiting federal aid to education as unconstitutional has ever been made. Are we to return to the days of Duplessis, when education needs were starved for the sake of 'provincial autonomy'?

Therefore, we can only deplore the position Mr. Gordon has taken, for in the eyes of non-McGillians, it is our position as well. May we suggest that our student leaders remove any possible misunderstanding which may have arisen from this statement by declaring that McGill students welcome with open arms the federal proposal.

Dear Sir:

Would you find some way to tell the director and members of the McGill Symphonic Band that they performed remarkably well last Friday night during the music and song presentation. SUE EDMONDS

We, the committee for the candidate feel that Susan Edmonds is especially qualified to fill the position of Secretary of the Women's Union. A scholarship student, Susan has held the positions of Secretary of the Women's Athletic Association and third year representative on the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society for the past year. She has also participated in many activities during her three years at McGill including Red Feather Campaign, Winter Carnival Committee, Blood Drive, Progressive Conservative Club, Model Parliament, and High School Visiting Program. Because of her experience and qualifications we are confident that Susan Edmonds can do the best job possible.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

CHERYL HYDE-CLARK

We, the committee for the candidate, nominate Cheryl Hyde-Clark for the position of Secretary of the Women's Union. A second year arts student, Cheryl has participated in many activities on campus, including the Blood Drive, Campus Chest, Treasure Van, and Carnival. She is also editor of the MCF News. She is familiar with the type of job as she works part time as a secretary several days a week. We feel Cheryl has the enthusiasm and the experience in both the Women's Union and in secretarial work to deserve your vote for this position.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

LINDA ROBINSON

Linda Robinson, a second year Honours English student is especially suited to hold the position of Secretary of the Women's Union. While at McGill, Linda has shown her keen interest in campus activities by participating in Red Feather, Blood Drive, and Combined Charities. As well Linda did publicity for the W.A.A. and worked on sales committees for Carnival and Treasure Van. We know that if she is elected Linda will serve the Women's Union conscientiously and enthusiastically.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

LINDSAY SCOTT

Lindsay Scott is in BSc. II. She came to McGill from The Study where in her final year she was elected Head Girl. In two years at McGill she has been associated with many campus activities including McGill Open House, Carnival publicity, Campus Chest canvassing, and Choral Society. She was a Big Sister and a hostess at the Freshette Reception last fall and is Ass't Women's Fraternity Editor of 'Old McGill '64'. Recently she chaired in the Carnival Intercollegiate Debates. Lindsay has had the experience in many fields which gives her a wide background for participation in campus administration.

pus groups over the publicity they had not received in the Daily, and promised to look into ways of ameliorating the situation if elected.

Mirza advocated sweeping reforms for the Daily, both as to policy and to structure. He attacked the paper for its "irresponsible" position on statutory grants in the first term, and said the Daily must be "totally impartial" on all campus questions.

He also recommended that the Managing Board be selected by Executive Application, and that an Editorial Board be set up to advise the Managing Board on editorial and other policies.

Brodhead called external relations the key challenge facing McGillians today. He warned of the dangers both of isolation from the French, and of losing our rights as an English speaking minority. He urged that "We must communicate at every level," in order to improve relations.

Bell favored exchange programs between organizations at McGill and those at French Universities. He cited AIESEC, the political clubs, and the ISA as groups which might participate in such exchange.

Mirza extended the friendly approach to cover French-English relations as well. He said that we need someone who will talk to the French Canadians and try to establish relations at a personal level, adding that he had already succeeded in achieving cooperation between international clubs at McGill and at the U of M. When asked if he himself can speak French, Mirza replied "Haven't you ever heard of the UN?"

Henry Polkki, President of the EUS, chaired the meeting.

PHILIP BARRON

PLATFORM

With the rapid expansion currently underway at McGill, the Undergraduate Societies must present a united front to aid in the problems which will arise. To this end I propose the reactivation of the dormant President's Committee, made up of the Undergraduate Societies' Presidents.

We must also obtain a more equitable fee-sharing arrangement with the SEC. Statutory Grants have not been forgotten, and I would propose an increase from the current $1 per student.

I promise a sister-survey to complement that on the over-all Commerce Course, this time to deal with each individual subject, and designed to delve deeper into the heart of the problems.

PENSKECH

Phil has devoted most of his time in the last three years to the RCAF Reserve, his 'means' while at University. He has worked on the Annual, and is currently responsible for the correlation and report of the results of the Commerce Survey.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

GERRY LUTERMAN

PLATFORM

(1) Extension of Freshman Reception Reception Committee to aid out-of-town students; (2) continuation of improvements to the Balance Sheet; (3) increased number of social activities; (4) increased sports participation with an athletic representative to each year; (5) revival of brewery and stock exchange tours; (6) broadening of Tutorial Service for first and second year students; (7) closing dinner for final year students; (8) agency to aid students find summer employment in connection with C.A. Society.

This is fully plausible and stems from Gerry's long experience on C.U.S. To continue working for that society, he needs your support.

PENSKECH

Gerry is a third year honours economics-accountancy student who has taken an active part in a wide range of Commerce activities.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

5th Member-at-large

WOMEN'S UNION

BARBARA CAMERON

Barbara Cameron, who is running for Fifth Member-at-large of the Women's Union, has proved herself capable in many campus activities. She participated enthusiastically in the Red Feather Drive and the Blood Drive. Barbara has had considerable experience in debating and public speaking and recently took part in McGill's High School Visiting Program. Last fall she helped out with the majorities. She has aided in the Women's Union Activities of Shoe Shine Day and the Book Exchange. It is for these reasons that we feel Barbara Cameron would be excellent for the position which she seeks.

HELEN MEGAN

A third year Science student in Chemistry, Helen came to McGill on a McConnell Scholarship after having placed fourth in the Province at matriculation. During her hectic high school days she belonged to three clubs, took part in student productions and still found time to be founding editor of the school newspaper and class treasurer.

At McGill she has served Red Feather, the Blood Drive and Combined Charities, and has recently been elected Treasurer of her fraternity. On the basis of her past record of strong leadership and dependability, we feel that Mopsey is just the person for this job.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

GAIL MORRELL

We, the Committee for the Candidate, Gail Morrell, believe that she is well qualified to hold the office of Fifth Member-at-large of the Women's Union. During her three years at McGill, Gail has actively participated on sales committees for Winter Carnival, Plumber's Ball, and Treasure Van; Blood Drive, Red Feather, and McGill Conference on World Affairs. Gail also played intramural volleyball and hockey. Whatever Gail undertakes, she does efficiently and enthusiastically; we know that she will do her best to promote the interests of the Women's Union.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

SUE PETERS

Sue's qualifications for 5th Member-at-large include a varied background of activities, not the least of which was acting as Women's Union 16th Member-at-large last year. Her experience also stems from being Chairman of the Book Exchange, Redmen Majorette, and Secretary of the Film Society. Other endeavours include the Red and White Revue, Campus Chest, and Red Feather, all performed while maintaining consistently high marks. Lastly, Sue's strong Acadian background assures voters that she will lend ardent support to the Women's Union's bid for separation from the SEC.

character and code of ethics of the president of the Evening Students' Association, which might have been the cause of the theft. "The fact that Mr. Borovilos (ESA President) should in effect vote himself a thousand-dollar expense account is ludicrous and blatantly unethical," was the way one paragraph read.

On Thursday, telegrams were received by the Georgian and the ESA President from an unknown source which read: "TUESDAY GEORGIAN EXCELLENT SCO-RESHEET FOR PENGUIN DART GAME — WINTER CARNIVAL KKK."

The ESA President later commented: "The ESA as well as day students have confirmed the fact that the pilfering of Georgians was done by members of a neighbouring university in the spirit of Carnival." No evidence for this claim has been presented, however.

The Students' Undergraduate Society Council has set up a committee to investigate the affair, and the Georgian is offering a $50 reward for information.

President, Students' Society

PLATFORM

Students of McGill need to be informed of the issues confronting their elected representatives and to participate in the decisions. This is vital now particularly at a time of rapid university expansion where student autonomy might otherwise be threatened. I propose: (1) Freshman Conference to inform newcomers to McGill; (2) Semi-monthly Presidential Report in the Daily, informing students before vital decisions are made; (3) Frequent visits by the President to various organizations as he does during the campaign; (4) Enforced reports by SEC representatives to their classes; (5) Faculty autonomy for logical decentralization; (6) Activities Board to spread the benefits of participation rather than observation.

Externally, McGill should increase contact with French-Canadian universities in areas of specific mutual contact, while not sacrificing our present position with other Canadian universities.

PENSKECH

Experience qualifies our candidate. Six years of active participation in McGill Students Society activities involving the following executive positions:

AIESEC, Vice-President; Debating Union, Intercollegiate Debating Chairman, Gold A Debater; Winter Carnival; ASUS, Executive and Inter-faculty debating; Freshman Reception, executive; McGill Law Journal, Junior Editor; Scarlet Key Honour Society; McGill Conference on World Affairs (MCWA), Chairman 1963. To this is added business experience as a consulting economist and research analyst.

Academically, a graduate of McGill in Honours Economics and Political Science, currently in second year Law, Joel has executive experience and maturity, as well as his bilingualism, which make him the only man able to represent McGill in negotiating with both administration and government.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

TIM BRODHEAD

PLATFORM

(1) Efforts to bridge the gap between student government and students, through creation of an advisory committee comprising the presidents of undergraduate societies plus representatives of the residences, to inform the President of the wishes and needs of these particular student groups.

(2) Increased liaison with the Administration to find solutions to pressing student problems, eg. inadequate facilities in Redpath Library, unheeded complaints regarding Residences, etc.

(3) Steps to prevent either isolation from our fellow French-speaking students, or an erosion of our own rights as a minority group in this Province; I advocate increased collaboration with other Quebec universities at all levels, eg. pressure on the Provincial Government to lower the cost of higher education, etc.

PENSKECH

The President represents the students of McGill to the Provincial Government, French-Canadian student leaders, the Quebec community, and the University Administration.

Tim Brodhead has proven his administrative capabilities as Chairman — University Model United Nations and of Public Events of the Debating Union; through his work on the New Union Committee he is uniquely equipped to ensure its efficient future use.

He has worked extensively with French-Canadian student leaders: as McGill's head delegate to Laval's Conference on 'Les Nouveaux Québécois', on the Consultative Committee on Student bursaries, and as the sole English-speaking member of the Union Générale des Etudiants de Québec.

As both an experienced administrator and a respected spokesman for McGill students, Tim Brodhead is deserving of your wholehearted support.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

SAEED MIRZA

PLATFORM

If elected, it is my fervent hope to dedicate myself to McGill's Student Community and serve it to the best of my ability. Foremost in my mind in this regard are: (1) Elimination of student apathy through: proper provisions in revised constitution and encouragement through undergraduate societies to increase student participation in activities, proper co-ordination of campus activities, bridging the gap between SEC and students; (2) Continuation and co-ordination of efforts of the ISA and other groups towards building better relations with French Canadian students; (3) Continuation of the efforts towards establishment of an International House near McGill University; (4) Revival of the editorial board to establish an independent and impartial Daily; (5) Reorganization and strengthening of the existing autonomous Inter-Residence Council for improving social and living conditions in the residences; (6) Promotion of relations between PGSS and Students' Society and continuation of efforts towards establishing a PGSS Home.

PENSKECH

Saeed Mirza, B. Eng. (Karachi), M. Eng. (McGill), 3rd year PhD student with his enormous administrative experience is well equipped to be an ideal President. His ability and capacity to serve you is amply demonstrated through his varied interests.

President, ISA, SEC Representative, Chief Returning Officer, Chairman Asia Week, Scarlet Key, Editorial Board Daily, Awards Committee, Awards Probe Committee, Campus Chest Committee, Chairman, Social and Education Committee, Most Valuable Student Award (ISA), SEC Gold Award, B.Eng. Gold Medal, Commonwealth Scholar, NRC Scholar, University Scholar, University Cricket Colours, KRT Fraternity, Pakistan All Star Cricket Team, Quebec Provincial Cricket Team.

Let us leave the student's welfare in the competent hands of "Experience".

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

President, Union

VICE-PRESIDENT, STUDENTS' SOCIETY

RONALD BERGER

PLATFORM

The coming year will be one of preparation for transition to the new Union. If elected, I will do my utmost to make it a year of revision as well. I propose to initiate policies which will give the student body a greater influence in decision-making and greater opportunities to take an active role in all student organizations: (1) Publication of SEC agenda prior to meetings for student discussion; (2) Establishment of an activities orientation programme prior to activities night; (3) Generally, to bring the Students' Society back to the students.

PENSKECH

We feel that Ron's demonstrated abilities merit your support. One rarely finds the degree of extensive participation and experience in student affairs that the following record reveals:

Executive, Scarlet Key Honour Society, Felt Key Award; Vice-President, Debating Union; Vice-President, Sociology Society; Gold A Intercollegiate Debater, Co-Winner Whitton Trophy; Honours Sociology-Anthropology; Winter Carnival Committee, '61-'62; M.C.W.A. '61; Chairman Novice Training '63; Model Parliament, '63-'64; Chairman Public Debates '62-'63.

On the basis of his character, record, extensive administrative and executive experience and sound practical knowledge of student and Union affairs, we strongly recommend Ronald Berger for Vice-President of the Students' Society and President of the Union.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

ED BOULTER

PLATFORM

(1) Close coordination between Union Executive and New Union Committee, insuring maximum benefit from the new Union; (2) A committee under the Vice-President for direct communication of Residence problems to the University; (3) Recommend Old Union as PGSS home; (4) Attention to and explanation of SEC budget expenditure through reports published in the Daily.

PENSKECH

During the past year Ed Boulter was Chairman of the Union Board of Managers. This has given him ideal preparation for the position of Vice-President. It involved active executive participation in the day-to-day functioning of the Union as well as a general knowledge of all phases of Students' Society activity. The fine job he did is ample recommendation of his ability to accept responsibility. In addition, he participated in the Red and White Revue crew this year; in other years he assisted with the Winter Carnival Revue, Red Feather and Camera Club. Presently on the New Union Committee, his work has given him insight into the problems of the new University Centre. We feel that this executive experience in all areas of Students' Society affairs, and thorough knowledge of the proposed transition make Ed undeniably the most qualified candidate.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

President, A.S.U.S.

MARVIN GOLDBERG

PLATFORM

Marvin pledges himself to fight student apathy. The platform he presents has been thought out carefully, deliberately and discussed thoroughly with the various committee and society chairmen. The promises Marvin makes are not sugar coated generalities, they are constructive concrete programs he hopes will develop into traditional ASUS activities: (1) A Carnival Sleigh Ride for needy children — A unique ASUS contribution such as this, to Carnival would foster unity, cohesion and spirit; (2) A "Big Frater" program for ASUS Freshman; (3) The Clarion will be printed once a month in a page bought from the Daily; (4) Remarks the Constitution; (5) Larger Bursary Allocations; (6) ASUS TGIF's.

PENSKECH

An Honours Political Science-Sociology student, Marvin has been most active on campus, gaining much experience in the process. Most students know him as the Daily's "Roving Campus-Surveyor". He has worked on Travel Week as Vice Chairman; on the Education Committee, M.C.W.A., and Model Parliament.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

SIMON SCHWARTZ

PLATFORM

(1) use ASUS funds to serve ASUS students, rather than distribute them to other faculties; (2) re-adapt the ASUS newspaper to better serve our needs; (3) get-acquainted programmes for out-of-town students; (4) an annual dance and crowning of an ASUS queen; (5) free movies; (6) ski trip; (7) publication of the budget; (8) free tutorial service for students who can show need.

PENSKECH

Simon, an Honours Economics and Political Science student, is well known about campus for his interests in many activities. He has participated on the Blood Drive, Combined Charities, Model Parliament, McGill debating teams, and is a member of several clubs. His acquaintance with the problems of student government, plus those of balancing budgets, are definite proof of his competence and experience. We feel that Simon has exhibited the determination, imagination, and desire for action necessary to head our Executive towards the giving of more to all ASUS students.

JIM WRIGHT

PLATFORM

(1) A new constitution for A.S.U.S.; (2) Continuance of the new programmes started this year by A.S.U.S.; (3) Closer relations between the SEC and the A.S.U.S. executive; (4) Co-operation with the Faculty of Arts and Science for an improved system whereby students may obtain advice on courses before registration.

PENSKECH

During his three years at McGill Jim has worked on the executives of various campus organizations. This year he served as 2nd Vice-President of A.S.U.S., was Director of Publicity for the McGill Campus Chest, and worked as a captain on the Red Feather Blitz. Only a member of the A.S.U.S. executive can have any idea of the complexity of the problems facing it, and thus be prepared for the job of President. It is because of his qualifications that we feel that Jim Wright is the best prepared candidate for the position of President of A.S.U.S.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

IAN CRAIN

PLATFORM

The candidate proposes a platform of construction reform with the intention of improving the machinery of the Student's Society. He feels there is a great necessity for a study to determine how the New Union may be used to the best advantage of the entire student body. He also proposes constitutional amendments that will bring about a closer relationship between the Students Executive Council and every member of the Students' Society.

PENSKECH

A graduate with honours of Montreal West High, the candidate has spent his three years at McGill, contributing to the extra-curricular activities of the student body, at the same time maintaining a joint honours course in Geology and Physics. He holds a University Scholarship, Logan Geology Scholarship and the R.P.W. Graham Scholarship and medal. He was one of the founders of the McGill Curling Club and, as President of the club, has been responsible for its growth into one of the most active organizations on campus.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

ROBERT HAACK

PLATFORM

If elected, I shall: (1) ensure smooth operation of the present Union until such time as construction of the new one is completed; (2) conduct negotiations with the University authorities regarding the administrative control of the new Union; (3) create an Activities Council composed of representatives from all clubs and societies, in order to co-ordinate the numerous programmes on campus; (4) re-organize the Board of Managers to form a more efficient controlling body for the Union; (5) do my utmost to prepare both the Union organization and the Students' Society for the move into the new Student Centre.

PENSKECH

Bob, a 5th year Electrical Engineer, is a member of the Phi Epsilon Alpha Honour Society. He is presently on the Union Board of Managers (Security), and was one of the Engineering SEC Representatives last year. He was a member of the EUS Executive, and has worked on the Radio McGill Technical Staff for two years. Bob has also been active on Freshman Reception, Blood Drive and Combined Charities, and also worked on last year's Red & White Revue.

In view of Bob's varied executive and administrative experience, we are proud to recommend him for the position of Vice-President of the Students' Society.

President, E.U.S.

PAUL LOWE

PENSKETCH

We believe that Paul is particularly suited for the Presidency of the E.U.S. because of his repeated support of Engineering activities during the past year. Having just served as 2nd Vice-President of the E.U.S., he is in a position to know how much work is demanded of the President, and by accepting this nomination has once again demonstrated his willingness to devote his time to the Engineers. Paul who is in Civil 4, is presently Secretary of the Phi Epsilon Alpha Honour Society and a member of the Scarlet Key.

If elected, Paul would: (1) Unconditionally back the C.P.E.Q. representatives and their stand taken on the unionization of Engineers; (2) Try to persuade the University not to discontinue the use of the vending machines; (3) Continue with decreased expenditures to replenish the Iron Ring Room Building Fund; (4) Extend the Engineering Freshman Orientation Program; (5) Update the E.U.S. Constitution.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

BELA NAGY

After graduation from Cardinal Newman High School with honours, Bela was awarded a University Entrance Scholarship and admitted to second year Engineering. He readily oriented himself and took part in extra-curricular activities. While in third year, he was elected Second Vice-President of the Electrical Club. He was also Co-chairman of the E.U.S. Social Committee, member of Student-Faculty Relations Committee.

If elected Bela proposes to: (1) Increase financial assistance to the L.Y.C.; (2) Reorganize the entertainment of Carnival and Engineering Princesses by the E.U.S.; (3) Tighten supervision of the Common and Locker room facilities; (4) Promote better understanding between all years and departments of Engineering in an effort to revive the dying spirit of engineers.

We, the committee for Bela, think that he is the best suited for the position.

W.A.A. PRESIDENT

DAINA BENEDIK

PLATFORM

The greatest obstacle in the relationship between the W.A.A. and women students at McGill is lack of communications. I believe that: (1) Every woman student must be made aware that the recreational and the competitive sports councils exist for their benefit and that no experience is necessary to take part in any sports; (2) In order to familiarize everyone with the sport events communications must be set up with (a) the McGill Daily (b) posters (c) handbills (d) letters and (e) a telephone committee; (3) Also, a better understanding must be reached with the Board of Governors regarding use of the Winter Stadium. At present, the McGill Students have very limited use of the ice rink because it's monopolized by outside clubs.

PENSKETCH

Our candidate has the following experiences which we believe are essential for a competent President of the W.A.A. (1) Executive ability: President of the Swimming Club, Radio & T.V. Publicity for Blood Drive, President of Panhellenic Council; (2) Public Speaking: Women's Debating, High School visiting program; (3) Experience within the W.A.A. organization: Member of Competitive Sports Council; (4) Ability in many sports. Daina played interschool basketball, Volleyball and Badminton. Intramurally she participated in Swimming, Diving, Volleyball and Ice Hockey.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

JOAN GLASHAN

Joan Glashan is a second year Dentistry student. She was admitted into the Faculty of Dentistry after completing second year Science. During her four years at McGill, Joan has shown her enthusiasm and interest in women's athletics by participating in intercollegiate hockey ('63-'64); intercity hockey ('60-'64); intercity soccer ('62-'64); carnival figure skating ('60-'64); intramural hockey, squash and riflery.

She has been President of the Hockey Club, captain and manager of the hockey team and sports representative for the Faculties of Medicine and Dentistry. For her work on the W.A.A. she was awarded a council crest.

In addition to her athletics, Joan is Secretary-Treasurer of her class, vice-president of the Women's Medical Undergraduates' Society and a member of the Redwing Honour Society.

We feel that Joan's experience and enthusiasm make her an excellent candidate for President of the Women's Athletic Association.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

IF YOU LIKE A LIGHT ALE YOU'LL PREFER MOLSON LAURENTIDE

Laurentide is the satisfying light ale because Molson's brews and ages it solely for those who prefer a light ale. So if you like it light and good-tasting...you'll like Laurentide. Try it!

BARBARA ROWAT

PLATFORM

In asking your support in the election for President of the Women's Athletic Association, I propose the following: (1) Because of the abolition of the Compulsory Freshman Physical Education Programme, it will be necessary to promote considerable interest in the intramural and recreational programme. This early activity in intramural sports is necessary to encourage later interest in competitive sports; (2) Greatly increased publicity of athletic events, particularly in the McGill Daily, through a closer cooperation between the W.A.A. and communication media.

PENSKETCH

Barbara Rowat has always maintained a keen interest in athletics, both through participation and administration. At Trafalgar School she was games captain, Sports Editor of the Annual, and graduating class president. At McGill, Barb has been very active in the W.A.A. Her record city and intercollegiate hockey for four years, and member of Competitive Sports Council. In includes intramural hockey and basketball; inter-addition, she has worked on Blood Drive and Freshman Reception, and in 1963 was chairman of the Queen's Tea. This fall she was Women's Chairman of the Red Feather Drive at McGill.

We feel that Barb's consistent record, and her spirit of participation and active interest in athletics merit your support as President of the W.A.A.

COMMITTEE FOR THE CANDIDATE

CAROLYN TINCOMBE

We, the committee for the candidate, feel that Carolyn Tincombe, a third year science student majoring in geology, is well qualified for the position of W.A.A. President with her wide executive experience in campus clubs and in the W.A.A.

(1) Red Wing Honour Society; (2) Secretary Recreational Activities Council of W.A.A.; (3) President of Figure Skating Club; (4) Director and Choreographer of the Winter Carnival Ice Show; (5) Winter Carnival Thursday Night Committee Executive; (6) Vice-President Franklin Society; also past president and former secretary of the Society; (7) Treasurer Montegregian Geology Club, and past social chairman; (8) former Director of the Props Committee of the Watershow; (9) former Vice-chairman Women's Union Book Exchange.

With your support, she will serve you to the best of her ability putting special emphasis on: (1) Increased publicity of the W.A.A. organization and its various clubs through the Daily and printed circulars; (2) greater participation in athletic activities on a recreational basis as well as competitively; (3) establishing better liaison between the W.A.A. and the women student body.

We feel that Carolyn's past experience in executive capacities in student organizations, her leadership abilities, and enthusiastic interest in athletics, merit her support as W.A.A. President.

RAILBIRDING

with ENN RAUDSEPP

Although almost three weeks have gone by, the memory of the Olympic hockey tournament still lingers on as a topic of conversation. Last Saturday night, I was fortunate enough to meet up with Marshall Johnston and Al McLean, two of the recently-returned team members who were taking in the sights and sounds of our Carnival before heading back to UBC.

As the circumstances of our meeting were not at all propitious to conversation it was impossible to get more than a few impressions of their Olympic outing.

Inevitably, of course, the conversation turned to the team's reaction to their being placed in fourth spot. Johnston, a master's student in education at JBC, felt that the team had been so worked up for the gold medal game with Russia that they hardly noticed the loss of the bronze medal in face of the larger disappointment. "We're only sorry we couldn't live up to the expectations of the people back home", added McLean.

Asked if the conditions and style of hockey in Europe had in any way been instrumental in stretching the margin of victory, McLean had this to say: "Not really. We were quite well briefed on what to expect; but, of course, certain things were strange at first. For instance, their average hockey rink is twenty feet wider than ours, and no matter what you are told, if you have been practising on the narrower rink, you're at a slight disadvantage."

"But I must say, it was a tremendous experience. We had a great gang of guys and a really good coach. Everywhere we went, we were well received."

When urged to comment on the reasons underlying the team's loss, they both were reluctant to alibi: "We met some pretty good teams there — the Russians especially are an extremely well drilled club — and I guess we made a few more mistakes than we could afford. Probably we also had too many lapses in our defence."

DOMINION CHAMPIONSHIPS

Much of the athletic activities of the current school term are all over but for the shouting. Only the swim team has yet to participate in an OQAA meet, and this finale will be faced this coming weekend.

However the second annual Dominion Finals in basketball and hockey will be held March 13 and 14 at Windsor and Kingston respectively. There the champions of the Western Intercollegiate, the Ottawa-St. Lawrence, the Ontario-Quebec and the Maritime Leagues will compete for the honours won last year by McMaster (Hockey) and Windsor (basketball).

What?? Women's hockey?

The McGill Squaws certainly do play hockey and if you need proof, come to the Winter Stadium Friday and see our girls in action in the Intercollegiate Tournament which they will host. Visiting teams will be Queen's, Toronto, OAC, McMaster, and Macdonald College.

The Redwomen have been practicing very hard all year and are playing inter-city matches Wednesday and Thursday night against Macdonald and St. Joseph's to be in top shape for the tournament. But they do need your support to play their best, so come up and do a little cheering! That's this Friday: 9 am the Redwomen meet McMaster; at 4:15 pm McGill vs Toronto; and Saturday at 10:15 am, the Squaws face OAC. Other games will be going on all day Friday and Saturday morning.

Liquor, Love And Teen-Agers

Teen-agers who drink increase their chances of becoming problem drinkers in later life. In March Reader's Digest read why liquor and sex are such "frequent bed-fellows". The tragedies that can result from teen-age drinking are revealed in an informative article — "Booze and You". Get your copy of Reader's Digest today.

Scribblemania

After a hair-splitting weekend at the hands of his admirers, namely the Plumbers, the King of Predicamenters, Scribe I, returns to his sanctuary to continue his scintillating reporting on Intramural sports.

Before revealing his "Day with the Plumbers" on Friday, the Priceless One is behooved to complete his stellar description of Intramurals. His Queen of Crystal Balls, Sandy I, has just about compiled the All-Scribe teams for the Basketball, Ice hockey, Floor hockey and Volleyball Leagues.

The Basketball Champs, are the same as last year, Med 4. Sparked by Uren, they rolled over their opponents in racking up their victory. In the quarter finals, the Grunters steamrolled the Shysters 30-15; Dent II edged the Turks 23-18; Med 4 scraunched Dents 29-18; while the BM's trounced the Educators 28-20. In the semi-finals, the BM's squeaked by the Grunters 31-27 with Taylor starring for the victors and MacDonald for the losers; Dent II led 14-12 at the half, but Med 4, paced by Uren with nine points, trimmed them 31-29 at the end.

Med 4 and the Grads teed off in the finals for the Basketball crown. In the first of the two game total-point series, Med 4 set back the Grads 32-26. The second tilt witnessed Med 4 pile it on as they creamed the Grads 39-20. Thus, Med 4 won the series 71-46. Uren scooped up 22 of the 71 points for the Champs, Med 4.

In Floor hockey, the champs are the Educators. The two game total-point semifinal witnessed the Educators, spearheaded by Kelly with three markers, smearing the Boys 6-3. The Shysters in their semi-final encounter overwhelmed the Polymorphs in the second game 4-1 after tying the first 1-1. Talpis was a standout in this triumph. The Shysters and the Educators battled to a 3-3 sawoff in the first match. Headed by powerful Chodat, the Educators won the second 3-2 and the series 6-5 over the Shys.

In Volleyball, the champs are the People. After copping 2/3 in the first round, the People lost the next 2/3 but still received the crown. The Grads put on a strong display in the second round winning 2/3 but fell short of their goal.

I wanna hold your hands...

With the last 121 words of this column, I would like to describe my two favourite desk editors — Halrecht on Tuesday and Scotty Stewart on Thursday. These poor chaps have the fortunate task of being the first to read the Scribe's column after it rolls off the Lip's 'press'. ESH has the peculiar habit of phoning the Scribe up at 3:30 every Tuesday and arousing the King from his well-earned siesta. "Scribe, 458 words I want from you!" bellows the Eel. To please him, the Scribe writes 459 words, and thus Esh must cut out a word — usually a Scribe goes!

Scotty, the Scribe's most ardent admirer, comes up with scintillating but crummy suggestions for his masterpiece. And so I offer my condolences to two creeps who tried to scraunch my column...

SPORTS

AND THE SINGLE GIRL

by SHARON SUTHERLAND

The world of female athletics has been regarded by the male population with a fair amount of skepticism, admiration and a good deal of awe. Girl athletes are often regarded as rare specimens of excess energy, with well developed biceps. The truth of the matter is, though, that girls participating in sports today, are usually slimmer and better co-ordinated than their less-athletically active classmates.

Many girls do not realize the social as well as health benefits open to the athletically proficient girl. Golfing, skiing, and tennis are just three of many sports in which the female can acquire bodily grace as well as the compliments of a handsome participant. But it isn't usually these sports that males thumb their noses at as anti-feminine, but rather the competitive sports such as basketball, volleyball, and soccer. Men say that these sports are too rough, and unlady-like. But girls who participate in inter-faculty and inter-varsity competitions do not develop extra-large thighs, but do develop a keen sense of competitive spirit and a well co-ordinated body.

Competitive sports are an excellent area for meeting new friends, going to new places, and sharing in the stimulating, tense atmosphere of competition. As much as males protest girls in sport, who fills the balconies at gymnastic events and swimming shows? These girls are by no means muscle bound, rather they usually possess a greater feeling for movement and a straighter posture.

The single girl in sports has not only the health and good colour of an active body but the compliments of a well-developed figure!
